TIG WELDING

If you have ever wanted to learn how to tig weld, now is your chance. Choose from these two options:

- Friday mornings beginning March 17 through May 5. 8:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. $300 plus a $15.10 registration fee. No class on March 24th during spring break.
- Week-long course, May 29 (starts on Memorial Day) through June 2. 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. $400 plus registration fee

No experience is necessary for either class. Contact Donna at 719-846-5724 for complete information, including a list of items you need to bring with you, or to register.

What is tig welding? TIG welding is another name for gas tungsten arc welding. TIG welding can be used for more metals than any other type of process. For this reason, a variety of industries rely on TIG welding. It is used in the construction of spacecraft and airplanes in the aerospace industry. Auto manufacturers use TIG welding on fenders for its anti-corrosive properties. TIG welding is also widely employed in auto body repair shops. Artists appreciate the excellent quality of TIG welds using them in sculpture welding.

WILDERNESS FIRST RESPONDER

Trinidad State Continuing Education is hosting a hybrid Wilderness First Responder (WFR) course September 18-22, 2023. The Hybrid WFR includes 30 hours of online, computer-based learning that must be completed prior to participating in 45 hours (5 days) of in-person learning on the Trinidad State campus. The course is $825; however the first 15 students to enroll will receive a $200 discount.

For complete information and to register visit <https://www.wildmed.com/course/hybrid-wilderness-first-responder-56/> or contact Donna at 719-846-5724 - donna.haddow@trinidadstate.edu

The Wilderness First Responder (WFR) course is the ideal medical training for outdoor educators, wilderness guides, members of the military, professional search and rescue teams, wildland firefighters, researchers, and those involved in disaster relief. The course provides essential training in wilderness medicine, leadership, and critical thinking for professionals and leaders working and traveling in outdoor, low-resource, and remote environments. The WFR curriculum is both comprehensive and practical and involves a minimum of 70 hours of instruction

Creating the Inclusive Classroom Strategies for Success

Get the training you need to reach the diverse mix of students you face every day. You will learn proven strategies for inclusion that turn diversity into opportunity. With a mix of students who have learning disabilities, neurobiological disorders, and physical challenges, the modern classroom requires an efficient and effective teacher who can prioritize under tight deadlines and be creative on demand.

The next session of this non-credit, online course begins March 15th. Choose between a 6-week instructor-led course or a 3-month self-paced course. Tuition for either option is $115.00.
