Secondary Program Description:

This program provides for training and education of students who want to work in an early childhood care and education career field. This program prepares you to become a productive, caring, and responsible teacher. Classes emphasize child development skills in the areas of language, social, emotional, cognitive, and physical development. Classes also focus on cultural diversity among children. Students will become familiar with theories concerning child development and ECE and will participate in group discussions and hands-on activities that can be applied in the preschool classroom. There are options for certificates, an AAS degree and transfer potential to four-year colleges. Students learn in the classroom and obtain field experience.
